Volume 70, No. 25 • Thursday, June 19, 2008 - June 25, 2008 The Main Line's Largest Paid Newspaper

Sports Page 19 | Opinion Page 9 | Accent on People Page 13

Diamond stars
Meet '08 All-Main Line baseball team

Development dance
Watching Ardmore take one step forward, two steps back

Zoobilee!
'What's New at Your Zoo?' party

MAIN LINE TIMES

Thursday, June 19, 2008

THIS WEEK On The Main Line

Final hugs
Merion Elementary School Principal Renee Hoffman bids farewell to students on the last day of school Friday, including fourth-graders Maria King and Moira Zorio (right).

In the Birds' nest
Main Liner Lee Corso has been with the Eagles since their last championship in 1960. And, boy, does he have some great anecdotes.
See Sports, Page 19

Obama in Radnor
Radnor Middle School hosts a town hall meeting with the presidential candidate.
See News, Page 27

BEST BETS

Fla
dou
on sav

Montco
Barnes
challeng

Joining friends at the Children's Crisis Treatment Center's 2008 Roundup are (from left) Richard M. Horowitz of Wynnewood, Stephanie Stahl of Bala Cynwyd, Ruth Horowitz and James L. Trichon of Bala Cynwyd.

PHOTOS BY CAROLE SPRINGER/MAIN LINE TIMES

William M. Deuber and Charlene Deuber (left) of Devon join Sharon Kestenbaum and Joseph D. Kestenbaum of Penn Valley at the 2008 Roundup for the benefit of Children's Crisis Treatment Center.

Arriving to join the fun evening at the 2008 Roundup are (from left) Ashley Keen of Philadelphia, Maria Papadakis of Wayne and Jake Roberson of Philadelphia.

CcTC Roundup benefits children and their families

By CAROLE SPRINGER

More than 350 guests adorned in cowboy hats, boots and red bandanas gathered June 6 at the Loews Hotel in Philadelphia for the Children's Crisis Treatment Center's 2008 Roundup.

The event co-chairmen were Nicole A. Cashman and Gabe Canuso.

The night began with cocktails and a performance by Jessy Kyle as guests browsed silent auction items. After the cocktail hour, guests moved into the Millennium room for dinner and dancing. Entertainment included performances by western dancers and live music by Dreamtime. The 2008 Roundup raised more than $260,000 for Children's Crisis Treatment Center.

For more than 35 years, Children's Crisis Treatment Center has successfully provided high-quality, comprehensive mental and behavioral health services to children in Philadelphia. These services address the effects of abuse, neglect, and other challenges to early childhood development and assist children in reaching their full potential within their homes, community, and society.

At the Loews Hotel in Philadelphia for the 2008 Roundup are (from left) Executive Director Tony Valdes of Wilmington, Del., Co-Chairman Nicole Cashman of Philadelphia and Co-Chairman Gabe Canuso of Philadelphia.

Celebrating at the Children's Crisis Treatment Center's 2008 Roundup are (from left) Marina Lesser of Bala Cynwyd, Wil Rappaport of Gladwyne, Ana Maria Lenfest of Bryn Mawr, James D. Lesser of Bala Cynwyd and Catherine Rappaport of Gladwyne.

Supporting the Children's Crisis Treatment Center's 2008 Roundup at the Loews Hotel in Philadelphia are (from left) Barry M. Abelson and Robin Abelson of Bryn Mawr, Suzanne Root of Merion and Rodney Green of Haverford.

CcTC Roundup benefits children and their families

By CAROLE SPRINGER

More than 350 guests adorned in cowboy hats, boots and red bandanas gathered June 6 at the Loews Hotel in Philadelphia for the Children's Crisis Treatment Center's 2008 Roundup.

The event co-chairmen were Nicole A. Cashman and Gabe Canuso.

The night began with cocktails and a performance by Jessy Kyle as guests browsed silent auction items. After the cocktail hour, guests moved into the Millennium room for dinner and dancing. Entertainment included performances by western dancers and live music by Dreamtime. The 2008 Roundup raised more than $260,000 for Children's Crisis Treatment Center.

For more than 35 years, Children's Crisis Treatment Center has successfully provided high-quality, comprehensive mental and behavioral health services to children in Philadelphia. These services address the effects of abuse, neglect, and other challenges to early childhood development and assist children in reaching their full potential within their homes, community, and society.